MA ORIENTATION

RESEARCH SHARING

Second-year MA students shared their ongoing projects and offered practical advice on managing coursework and research. Their reflections provided inspiration and guidance for first-year students as they begin shaping their own topics.

DDP HIGHLIGHTS & STUDENT EXPERIENCES

MA Class Adviser, Prof. Richard Lin, introduced the Dual-Degree Program (DDP), noting its growing success as more students pursue study abroad opportunities. First-year students actively engaged in the discussions, asking questions and connecting with peers, while the gathering as a whole fostered collaboration, mentorship, and a strong sense of community across the program.

PIZZA MEET & GREET

The English Department, led by the Department Chair Prof. Aiden Yeh and MA Class Adviser Prof. Richard Lin, organized a pizza gathering for MA students, welcoming both new and returning participants. Students exchanged research ideas, explored ways to broaden their academic horizons, and learned about opportunities such as the Dual-Degree Program (DDP).
